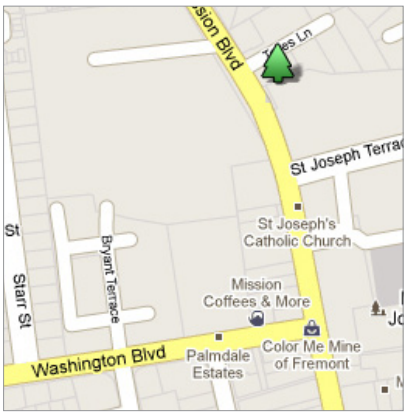
Platanus racemosa
California sycamore

43148 Mission Boulevard
Mission San Jose District



Approximate location on map.

Palmately-lobed leaves.

Photo Taken: September 2010

MSJ-10 TREE INFORMATION/September 2010

HEIGHT: Average 55'

SPREAD: Average 65 ft.

DBH: 3 ft. 7 in., 2 ft, 8 in., unknown

QUANITY: 3

NATIVE TO: California

LANDMARK DATE: March 28, 2006

These three California Sycamores are engulfed ivy and poision oak, causing some of their branches to decline. They are located near the landmark rows of Canary Island Date Palms.

The California Sycamore, also known as the Western Sycamore and the California Plane Tree, is a deciduous tree. They thrive along streams, foothills and the Coast Range.[7]